ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF PSYCHIATRY, Division of Aging and Geriatric Psychiatry

The Department of Psychiatry in the School of Medicine at the University of Texas Health Science Center San Antonio invites applications for Assistant/Associate Professor in the Division of Geriatrics. This full-time faculty position’s academic rank and appointment to tenure or non-tenure tracks will be commensurate with qualifications. Candidates must have completed a general psychiatry residency, completed a geriatrics fellowship, and be board certified/eligible in general psychiatry. Primary clinical and administrative duties will be to provide clinical services and teaching on the Consultation-Liaison service at University Health System, the UT Medicine Geropsychiatry clinic, and collaborate with the Geriatric Education Center to develop a Continuing Education Program for practitioners in South Texas.

Applicants must be eligible to obtain a Texas medical license. In addition, candidates must be eligible for clinical privileges with the University Health System under the appropriate staff category and must agree to abide by those privileges as outlined by the current bylaws of the institution. Applications will be accepted until suitable qualified candidates are found.

The Department of Psychiatry has outstanding educational, research, and clinical programs, and its San Antonio location offers a pleasant climate, an excellent public school system, and abundant recreational activities. The University of Texas Health Science Center San Antonio is an equal employment/affirmative action employer including protected veterans and persons with disabilities. All faculty appointments are designated as security sensitive positions.
